The Town Clerk commented that all Councillors should be reviewing the figures.

Cllr A Rea commented that he would prefer it if Cllr Dredge questioned the accounts during the meeting rather than before.

The Town Clerk advised that the Internal Auditor is Stuart Pollard and he is from an external company which covers a large number of councils across southern England. The Internal Audit Representatives meet with the Internal Auditor during his visit. Cllr Dredge proposed the amendments to the Standing Orders. She went on to say that the Scouts are not able to camp at Harford any more, it is now too great a distance for them to walk to a part of the moor where they can camp.

Cllr Lannin proposed the Council write a letter of support to DNPA and promote the crowdfunder on social media. Cllr L Rea seconded this and all were in favour.

Cllr Budd commented that 60 places is very few for the number of children who would benefit from this.

Cllr Wilson commented that he felt families should contribute to this.

Cllr Abbott was concerned that this may exclude those families on low income.

Cllr Budd suggested liaising with schools could identify the children who would benefit. She then voiced concerns about the Beacon Room being very small for a group of 20 children.

The Town Clerk explained that Ivybridge Community Arts were hoping to hold a free event for as many children as possible.

Cllr Wilson felt that this is a lot of money to benefit only a small number of children.

I'm pleased to say I went out again with a Mobile Localities Officer. In Ivybridge, he inspected Play Parks for safety and keeps an eye on standards; he also worked on litter and fly-tipping; we visited Sherford and saw some issues local to that new area. We completed the day by following up on fly-tipping north of Plympton and towards Warleigh Point.

Following the support the Town received from the Police Cadets at the Christmas Fair, I've had a first visit to their weekly meetings. The topic was police dog handlers and I was able to see dog handlers at work. As you can imagine, it was fascinating.

After the election (if it's still appropriate), I hope to return to talk about the work of the Town and District Councils. If you have issues you'd like highlighted, please let me know.

The Mayor commented that she had heard some information about photo ID being required to vote would be being sent out with the new Council Tax information.

Cllr A Rea commented that he had opted in to have his brown bin collected and had received a sticker for it. Today was the first day his bin was collected but the bin had been left in the middle of the pavement. He asked what the guidance was. Cllr Abbott advised that they are supposed to put the bins back on the edge of the property and he would raise this.

POLICE

Sgt Canning had provided the following report which was circulated prior to the meeting:

Although significantly better, youth ASB is still rearing its head from time to time. Just recently this has manifested in a series of shoplifting offences. PC Perry has managed to secure the CCTV and statements for these offences and will be interviewing a number of young persons in the near future.

We have suffered a reoccurrence of anti-Semitic graffiti, this time in the underpass beneath the A38 as you walk towards the Fire station. The Ivybridge team are aware and checking the area regularly.

There were 67 calls for service via 101 / 999 in the town council area for the month of February.

Op Langstone is the name given to our response and investigation into the series of power cable thefts we have experienced around the outskirts of Ivybridge. This is an incredibly high risk type of theft whereby a person sends a battery operated angle grinder up on an insulated pole and cuts live power cables down from the network. Some of the cables carry 33,000Volts. We have now had 11 such thefts so we would like to remind residents, if they see any suspicious activity around power lines, please call 999 immediately.

Cllr Budd queried whether those involved in youth ASB are a core group or whether the group is getting bigger.

PC Wills advised that it is a core group but a new generation as older youths move on into jobs or further education.

Cllr Budd queried whether Tesco and Coop's policy of not prosecuting shoplifters has continued.

PC Wills advised that they really do need every incident to be reported as resources are allocated depending on need and need is worked out by looking at the number of reported incidents.

The Mayor thanked PC Wills for attending the meeting.

GENERAL

Mr Steele advised that he would be standing for election to South Hams District Council.

Ms Dommett advised that she would be standing for election to South Hams District Council and thanked the Mayor for the letter of condolence her mother had received.

Cllr A Rea advised that he would be standing for election to South Hams District Council.

Cllr Abbott advised that he would be standing for election to South Hams District Council.

Cllr Wilson commented that prior to Covid, Cllr Croad was looking at painting double yellow lines on Exeter Road by the school as parked cars make it dangerous at school drop off and pick up times, and asked whether there was any update on this.

The Town Clerk advised that Devon County Council had decided not to go ahead with this.

Cllr Budd commented that traffic queues will only get worse when the new special school opens.

Cllr Dredge commented that there has to be a serious accident to make change happen.

Cllr A Rea asked whether Cllr Croad could be invited to the next meeting to speak about parking on Exeter Road.

The Mayor raised a concern that the Gold Bus will be going through Sherford from April not straight into Plymouth which will lead to a longer journey time and it won't go to Sainsburys any more.

The public participation session closed at 7.21pm.
